

Scholarships for Young Professionals

(Assistant professors and advanced graduate students)

The Farm Foundation has provided funding for ten (10) $300 scholarships to support the participation of young professionals in this workshop. Those wishing to apply for these scholarships should prepare a one page letter outlining their interest in spatial economics and their need for financial support, and indicating how they would benefit from the workshop. This letter should be emailed to Missy Fleming at Missy.Fleming@oregonstate.edu by June 22, 2007. Applicants will be notified of the decisions about scholarships on or before July 2.