

AAEA Career Opportunities
Position Report

Assistant Professor

Employer Information

Texas A&M University
Agricultural Economics
Department of Agricultural Economics
College Station, TX 77843-2124
United States

Position Contact Information

Parr Rosson
Phone: 979-845-2116
Fax: 979-862-1563
E-Mail: prosson@tamu.edu

Position Information

Start Date:

Duration:

Location: College Station, Texas United States

Tenure Track: Yes

U.S. Citizenship Required: No

Languages

Specialty Desired

Primary Specialty: Agricultural Economics

Other specialties: Industrial Organization

Educational Requirements

More Information: http://www.agecon.tamu.edu/departments/departments\_faculty\_positions\_announcements

Position Description

Position Title: Assistant Professor - Industrial Organization, Markets and Quantitative Analysis

Appointment: Tenure track (9-10 month appointment); Teaching and Research

Department and Programs: The Department of Agricultural Economics in College Station, Texas, is a large, diverse department with a broad array of programs, faculty, and students focusing on the application of economic analysis to firm level decisions in agriculture, natural resources, agribusiness, community economics and policy. This position will contribute to the advancement of research and teaching programs in the area of firm and individual behavior in markets plus in the application of quantitative methods to firm decisions and agricultural market behavior. The Department seeks individuals from diverse backgrounds to contribute to our Department learning and work environment.

General Duties and Responsibilities: Area of study includes a focus on industrial organization and market behavior. Teaching responsibilities include developing and teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in the area of quantitative methods, industrial organization, information and markets. Research responsibilities include the application of firm and individual behavior in markets. Areas of possible specialization include: market analysis, information economics, contract design, experimental economics and econometrics. Mentoring of undergraduate students and advising of graduate students is expected.

Qualifications: PhD in agricultural economics, economics, business or related field with strong grounding in the theory and methods applicable to specialized fields pertinent to the study of firm level risk and managerial economics.

Application Process: Send a letter of application, current curriculum vitae, transcripts, and the names, addresses, and phone numbers of three references to C. Parr Rosson, III, Professor and Head; Department of Agricultural Economics; 2124 TAMU; College Station, Texas 77843-2124; Phone: (979) 845-2116; Fax: (979) 862-1563 ; E-mail: prosson@tamu.edu

Closing Date: May 1, 2013, or until filled.

Visit our Website for more information on the Department and Texas A&M University:
<http://agecon.tamu.edu>

The Texas A&M Agriculture is an equal opportunity employer.