2004 /2005 AAEA Foundation Annual Report

2004/2005 Highlights

- Received $109,993 in contributions
- Net assets increased $140,871 to $1,522,872 at year end, primarily due to increases in the fair market value of our investment portfolio
- Provided $50,395 for program support of approved projects
- Established and chartered the Chester O. McCorkle, Jr. Student Scholarship Fund and presented the first $2,000.00 McCorkle Scholarship Award to winner Caroline Gunning-Trant of University of California at Davis
- Co-sponsored the "Australian Agriculture and Resource Economics Society (AARES)-American Agricultural Economics Association" Young Professionals Exchange Program
- Provided co-support with the American Agricultural Economics Association Executive Board for Council on Food, Agricultural & Resource Economics (CFARE)
- Established the Ronald D. Knutson Appreciation Club

A Message from the President

This 2004/2005 Annual Report of the American Agricultural Economics Association Foundation is highlighted by increased contributions for activities of the 2004 Annual Meeting; the chartering of the Ronald Knutson Club and the Chester O. McCorkle, Jr. Student Scholarship Fund; another successful Galbraith event and continued work on a similar event for the ASSA Meetings; and a focus by the Board and the Development Committee on strategies to increase fund raising capacity and success.

The purpose of the Annual Report is to inform AAEA members and donors about the Foundation's financial strength, its programs and its governance during the 2004/2005 fiscal year. We welcome your suggestions and questions on the work of the Foundation. Please address them to any member of the Foundation Governing Board or to the AAEA Executive Director, Yvonne Bennett.

Yvonne and her staff are finishing their first, very productive year in the AAEA Office. The Foundation Governing Board expresses its sincere thanks to the staff of the AAEA Office for their help and dedication to the Foundation during 2004.

Robert Hauser
President, 2004-2005

Vision and Goals

Vision:

"The AAEA Foundation will mobilize resources and generate initiatives to increase membership, enhance member involvement, expand missions and stimulate new fields of activity for the AAEA."

Goals:

To mobilize resources and serve as a catalyst to enhance the capacity of AAEA to fulfill its vision in:

1. stimulating and nurturing the professional development of its members and potential members,
2. providing information to enhance the quality of the public discourse on issues related to agriculture, the food system, natural resources, environment, development and related issues,
3. providing a focal point for debate on critical issues,
4. enlarging the community of our membership (including, e.g., business economists, public service professionals, faculty and students of 1890 institutions, etc.),
5. expanding and deepening the Association's involvement with industry, public service, and the international community, and
6. broadening participation in the full range of Association activities by individuals and groups with limited resources.

The AAEA Foundation was established in 1985 to solicit funds and build an endowment to support specialized programs beyond those that could be funded from the American Agricultural Economics Association's operating budget. The Foundation was established with an initial, generous gift from Asher Hobson, a political scientist at the University of Wisconsin.

The Foundation is guided by an elected and appointed Governing Board and operates as an integral subsidiary part of the AAEA working closely with the Executive Board. The purpose of the Foundation is to solicit, collect, invest and disperse funds other than membership dues and other fees collected by the AAEA for its services and products. The American Agricultural Economics Association holds a Section 501(c)(3) exemption from the Internal Revenue Service. The tax-exempt identification number for the AAEA is 61-0705416.

The Board's major project areas and level of funding from the endowment in 2004/2005 were:

Student/Minority Programs	$10,595
Professional Development	$11,010
International Outreach	$ 4,545
Outreach Organizations	$ 7,245
C-FARE Support	$17,000
Total	$50,395

Requests for funding come from many individuals, from AAEA committees and from affiliated organizations in the United States and overseas. The deadline for submitting requests is October 3, 2005. Advance consultation with the Vice President for Programs is advised. In addition, written proposals may be submitted by July 1 for informal feedback to help prepare final proposals.

History and Purpose of the AAEA Foundation

Generous gift from Asher Hobson

Financial Status of the Foundation

Exceeded goal of $1 million by the year 2000

A major goal of the AAEA Foundation is to build the endowment to a level that will allow significant support for projects and programs of the AAEA. In 1991, the Foundation Governing Board adopted goals for the endowment of $250,000 by the end of 1993, and $1 million by the end of 1999, which has been reached. The Foundation's annual budget is a combination of funds provided directly from endowment earnings under a "spending rule" and annual donations solicited to sponsor designated programs and Annual Meeting events.

Table 1 shows the value of the Foundation's total assets and the endowment since 1990. The Foundation adopted a spending rule several years ago that no more than six percent of the value of the endowment each year would be allocated for program support. Earnings in excess of six percent will remain in the endowment. If funds allocated from the endowment to the current budget are not all spent in the year for which they are allocated, the leftover amount is added to that available for the budget in the subsequent year, unless the Board decides to return the funds to the endowment.

In 2004, AAEA and the Foundation changed from a calendar year to a fiscal year of April 1 through March 31.

Table 1. Year end value of assets and endowment, AAEA Foundation, March 31, 1990-2005

Year	Assets	Endowment

2001	$1,237,696	$1,192,219
2002	$1,129,677	$1,061,549
2003	$1,384,387	$1,334,310
2004/2005	$1,530,190	$1,512,698

The Endowment is invested in accordance with guidelines established by the Board, and the asset mix and fund performance is reviewed at each regular Board meeting. The Vanguard Group was selected to advise on guidelines, asset mix and mutual fund selection. A major advantage of an outside manager has been the reporting of performance to the boards on a consistent and professional basis. A joint Foundation-Executive Board Investment Committee consisting of the Executive Director, the Chairperson of the Executive Board's Finance Committee and the Foundation's Vice President of Finance, monitors and advises the Association on the portfolio. The fund generated a gain of $128,490 in 2004/2005 fiscal year.

Appreciation Clubs have been the main source of new contributions to the endowment. Currently, there are 28 such clubs and three Special Purpose Funds. Contributions to the 31 Appreciation and Special Purpose Clubs amounted to $105,505 in 2004/2005. This represents 96 percent of the total Foundation gifts. The financial status of each club and the year they were chartered is shown in Table 2.

At the 2004 Annual Meeting, new clubs were chartered in honor of Ronald Knutson and Chester O. McCorkle Jr. Student Scholarship Fund. The Foundation is indebted to not only the many donors to clubs, but also to the club organizers, usually the honoree's students, through whose efforts the clubs are created. A total of $12,500 in gifts and pledges is required to charter a club and $25,000 must be contributed within four years to endow a club permanently.

Special Purpose Funds

In 1992, the Foundation created a new type of fund to be named after designated individuals or entities. Special Purpose Funds may be established to support a specific area of interest within the scope of the Foundation's objectives. Organizers are expected to follow the basic guidelines for Appreciation Clubs, to coordinate their efforts with the Foundation Board, and to seek concurrence of the Board before initiating a Fund. Currently the Foundation has four Special Purpose Funds.

Tony Grano	2000	$26,300
Sylvia Lane	1992	$ 2,484
Chester O. McCorkle	2004	$62,475
Luther G. Tweeten	2001	$26,279

Under the Eagle Award Program, friends and colleagues who contribute $1,000 or more to the AAEA Foundation may recognize a member of AAEA with an Eagle plaque. It features the name of the honoree, the year, a replica of the AAEA seal and the following inscription:

Eagle Award Program

"For important contributions to Agricultural Economics, presented by grateful colleagues and friends. This recognition supports work in agricultural economics funded by the American Agricultural Economics Association Foundation."

The Eagle Award represents an opportunity for friends and colleagues wishing to honor an individual to do so in a dignified manner with the assurance that the funds will be used in support of work in agricultural economics. The money becomes part of the Endowment Fund.

Previous Eagle Awards have been given to the following:

Rueben C. Buse	1994
Reynold P. Dahl	1994
Dan Padberg	1995
Earl I. Fuller	1995
J.C. Headley	1996
James W. Graves	1998
Dale Dahl	1998
Richard A. King	1999
Gary Seevers	1999
Patrick Bryne	2000
Roland R. Robinson	2002
Leo J. Guedry	2003
Ronald D. Knutson	2003

It is noted that other professional organizations with foundations count on annual contributions from members for a major portion of their funds. Such contributions are an indication of member support for the affiliate foundation, an indicator often considered important by potential outside donors.

Corporate Support

Corporate donations continued to be an important source of support in 2004. The Board is actively seeking corporate sponsorship of important programs and activities of the profession.

Board Membership and Governance

The Foundation Governing Board members are elected by the AAEA membership (two elected annually for three-year terms), appointed by the AAEA Executive Board as liaisons to the Foundation (one appointed annually for a two-year term), or appointed by the Foundation President (two appointed for three-year terms and filled when terms expire). The Past President of AAEA also serves on the Board.

The members of the Board whose terms expired at the 2004 AAEA Annual Meeting (Denver) were Enrique Figueroa, Roberta Cook and Alan Randall. Elected to replace them were Scott Irwin and Katherine R. Smith. Alan Randall is the new AAEA Executive Board liaison to the Foundation. Jon Brandt joined the Board as AAEA Past President. At the 2004 AAEA Annual Meeting, Robert Hauser was elected by the Foundation Board as President, Thomas Hertel was elected Vice-President for Development and Kathleen Segerson was elected as Vice-President for Programs.

The Foundation Governing Board meets twice annually—summer (AAEA Annual Meeting), and winter. All members of the Board serve on one of two committees, Finance or Development, which are chaired by their respective Vice Presidents. Most of the work of the Board is done within the two committees and by the staff of the AAEA Office, who also serves and supports the Board. The AAEA Office manages financial matters, correspondence and administration.
