Call for Participation:

AEM/Graduate Student Section Case Study Competition

The AEM/Graduate Student Section Case Study Competition allows graduate students to test their communication skills and their ability to apply their knowledge of agricultural economics and agribusiness subjects to practical situations. Students competing in the competition will receive a copy of the case study at least two weeks in advance of the 2017 AAEA Annual Meeting.

AEM/GSS Case Study Competition Rules: Each team should prepare an oral summary of their solution to the case that will last no more than 15 minutes. Presentations lasting more than 15 minutes will be penalized. After the presentation, teams should be prepared to answer questions from the judges on their interpretation of the case.

Teams can be comprised of up to three graduate students. Students may either compete as a team from the same school, or may choose to be mixed with students from other schools. If there is only one student from a school that wants to participate, the student can compete on their own, or he/she can be matched with other students. In the case of teams that are matched with individuals from different universities, competitors will be notified of their teammates as soon as possible, but no later than the same day the case is announced.

AEM/GSS Case Study Competition Prizes: The top three teams will receive plaques and cash prizes.

- First Place: $300
- Second Place: $200
- Third Place: $100

Specific Information for the 2017 Case Study

Competition: The number of rounds will be determined by the number of teams entered. The final round will be composed of the top three teams. In addition to plaques and cash prizes, the three finalist teams will also be recognized during the AAEA Awards Ceremony.

- Sunday, July 30, 8:00am – 3:00pm: First Rounds of Competition
- Monday, July 31, 1:30pm – 4:00pm: Final Round (if necessary)
- Monday, July 31, 6:00pm – 7:15pm: Awards Ceremony

Students participating in the case study competition will need to be registered for the Annual Meeting AND the Case Study Competition.

1. Students should register for the AAEA Annual Meeting through the 2017 Annual Meeting Registration Form which is available online at <http://www.aaea.org/meetings/2017-aaea-annual-meeting>
2. Each team must also complete the Case Study registration form identifying teammates and send it to AAEA no later than June 12, 2017.

Please direct any questions regarding the 2017 AAEA Case Study Competition to Dr. Lia Nogueira-Rodriguez (lia.nogueira@unl.edu) or GSS Section Chair, Aaron Ates (aaron.ates@okstate.edu).

2017 AAEA Fellow: Mario Miranda

Mario Miranda is Professor of Agricultural, Environmental, and Development Economics at The Ohio State University. Miranda's professional record exhibits a rare balance of path-breaking academic research, high-quality applied research, and innovative classroom teaching. Miranda's outstanding reputation and leadership role in the area of quantitative policy and agricultural risk analysis are well established among academic, professional, and government circles.

Miranda's research has focused on the modeling of stochastic dynamical systems in economics with application to international economic development, agricultural finance, agricultural risk management and insurance, agricultural and environmental policy, food security, commodity pricing, and industrial organization. His research has produced one book, which has been adopted by seven of the top ten ranked doctoral programs in Economics in the world, over 60 peer-reviewed articles, two of which are among the three most frequently cited articles in the field of "agricultural insurance", and several computational modeling and risk management software packages. He has also won numerous university research and teaching awards and has advised eighteen PhD students to completion, two of whom won the Applied and Agricultural Economics Association Outstanding Doctoral Dissertation Award and one who received honorable mention.

Professor Miranda served seven years as Director of Graduate Programs in the Department of Agricultural, Environmental, and Development Economics at The Ohio State University, internationally ranked among the top programs in its fields. Miranda has served as an Associate Editor of the Journal of Economic Dynamics and Control, the American Journal of Agricultural Economics, and Computational Economics. He has also served as a consultant to the World Bank, U.S. Agency for International Development, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, the Chicago Board of Trade, numerous private corporations, and several branches of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, including the Economic Research Service, Risk Management Agency, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, and the Office of the Chief Economist. He has acquired extensive international experience, having worked on major research projects or taught graduate-level courses in Bolivia, China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Ghana, Honduras, Italy, Mexico, Morocco, Nicaragua, Peru, South Africa, and Tanzania. Miranda holds a dual PhD in Economics and Industrial Engineering from the University of Wisconsin – Madison.

AAEA at ASSA 2018

Call for Submissions:

2018 ASSA Annual Meeting

President-Elect Scott Swinton is soliciting proposals and suggestions for AAEA invited paper sessions at the 2018 Allied Social Sciences Association \(ASSA\) Annual Meeting in Philadelphia, January, 5–7, 2018.

The objective of AAEA sessions at the ASSA Annual Meeting is to share new knowledge of interest to economists. The AAEA encourages sessions that will draw widely from ASSA attendees, including sessions jointly sponsored with other ASSA member associations.

A subcommittee of the AAEA Board will review all proposals. Preference will be given to proposals that:

1. Cover issues of national and international importance
2. Expand capabilities and tools for economic research
3. Promise a high-quality collection of papers suitable for publication

Papers in approved Invited Paper sessions are eligible to be peer reviewed for publication in the proceedings issue of the American Journal of Agricultural Economics. Authors will be contacted by the AJAE editors with manuscript submission details.

Proposed formats for the two-hour sessions may include either three papers with one discussant or else four papers with no discussant. All proposals must include a plan for fostering participant interaction.

Proposals should include the session title and paper titles, as well as the names, addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses of the session organizer, moderator, paper presenters, and discussants. Proposal text should begin with a short justification of the session, followed by one paragraph abstracts describing the objective and contributions of each paper. The organizer is responsible for ensuring that all individuals identified in the proposal are willing to participate.

All speakers and discussants must be members of AAEA, although the proposal may request a membership waiver under special circumstances. Participants must register for the ASSA meeting.

Please send proposals by May 1, 2017, in Word document or PDF format to Mary Annen at mannen@aaea.org.

Inter-Conference Symposium

Submission of full papers: Full papers written in English should be submitted via the ConfTool system NO LATER than June 1, 2017. The papers should be no longer than 10 pages total including Tables and Figures (References do not count in the 10 page limit). Papers should be double spaced, use 12 point Times New Roman Font and have one-inch margins all around. The papers should provide a background section, a clear explanation of the core research question(s), data and methods used, results, conclusions, and key references. Authors are asked to adhere to all stated requirements.

The corresponding author of each submitted paper commits to review at most three papers from other authors. In addition to obtaining a suitable evaluation, final paper acceptance is contingent upon the timely submission of the reviews for these papers.

Notifications of selected papers will be sent by July 1, 2017. At least one author of an accepted paper must register and pay the conference fee no later than August 15, 2017 for the paper to be included in the program. All other participants must be registered no later than September 1, 2017.

POSTERS: Some papers might be assigned to a Poster Presentation depending on recommendations made by the reviewers. During the Visual Presentation sessions, participants will circulate to hear your presentation and discuss your research. You should aim to present for approximately five minutes and then be prepared to answer questions.

ORGANIZED PANELS: We invite the submission of Organized Panels, with a due date of May 30, 2017. These proposals should be submitted by email to info@iaae2017talca.org. The Scientific Committee will be responsible for the evaluation and final decision regarding the proposals.

The purpose of the organized panels, which will be held as plenary or part of the parallel sessions, is to bring together 3-4 panelists that are working on a common topic, which may be related to the theme of the Symposium. The topic can focus on policy issues, research methods, emerging research results, and teaching or outreach. The sessions may have different formats but the typical arrangement is short presentations on a common theme. Regardless of the format proposed, all panels need to allocate an important share of the available time for interactions among the panelists and between the panelists and the audience (at least 30 minutes from a total of 90).

The proposals need to include: session title; session rationale; names and contact information for the organizer and other participants; and a description of the format including plans for discussion. The proposal should be no longer than two pages.
