Call for Applications: Managing Editor of the Applied Economics Perspectives and Policy

The AAEA Executive Board invites applications for one Managing Editor for Applied Economics Perspectives and Policy (AEPP). The degree to which candidate's expertise complements that of the continuing editors, will be considered in the selection process. AAEA is particularly interested in candidates who will bring ideas and innovations for helping AEPP to further its mission. Information about AEPP, its policies and mission is available at www.aaea.org/publications/aepp.

Managing Editor Responsibilities

The Managing Editor will work with an editorial team comprised of two Submitted Article Editors to manage the manuscript review process. The Managing Editor responsibilities include:

- Development and management of Featured Articles
- Submitted manuscript management which includes but is not limited to monitoring review timelines and distribution of submissions
- Oversight of special projects such as special issues and supplements
- Manage communications between editors
- Liaise on behalf of the journal with Wiley and the AAEA Board

The AEPP editorial process employs electronic submission of manuscripts and interchange between editors and reviewers. An electronic system that tracks manuscripts through submission, review, and editorial decision is used by the editors for managing workflow. Authors can also query this system for email reports on the status in the editorial process of a submitted manuscript. The editors also oversee the work of Wiley in preparing copy for printing and reviewing proofs.

The new editor should be prepared to begin on July 2024 with a three year term. There may be some training and coordination work starting as soon as possible and the successful applicant would be expected to meet with the Editorial team at the 2024 Annual Meeting in New Orleans (in person or virtually).

Application Requirements

Applications should include:

- A statement of editorial philosophy and ideas for furthering the journal's goals,
- Indication of the candidate's principal areas of expertise to support the AEPP's mission,
- Curriculum vitae
- Statement of administrative and financial support to be provided by the host institution.

AAEA will provide financial assistance to defray some portion of the editor's time and most expenses. Applications should be sent electronically via PDF to Kristen McGuire, Executive Director, at kmcguire@aaea.org by March 15, 2024. Decisions will be made by early June.

Third-party nominations of potentially interested candidates who can then be solicited for their materials are also welcome.

Call for Applications Editorship of the Applied Economics Perspectives and Policy

The AAEA Executive Board invites applications for one editor for Applied Economics Perspectives and Policy (AEPP) to serve from 2024 through 2026. This call for applications is for an editor to manage Submitted Articles which contain original research results addressing real-world problems with sound research approaches and/or have strong policy relevance within the subject matter of the journal. The degree to which candidate's expertise complements that of the continuing editors, will be considered in the selection process. The AAEA is particularly interested in candidates who will bring ideas and innovations for helping AEPP to further its mission.

Submitted articles will meet the normal standards for scholarly publication, but should also be accessible to the broader audience of agricultural and applied economists working outside academia. Submitted articles should emphasize one or more of the following: a) practical implications for public policy; b) clarification of research implications so as to maximize accessibility and cross-fertilization across specific areas of research; c) empirical comparison of competing theories, explanations, and approaches that can refine future research; and d) development of fruitful directions for future research. Additional information about the AEPP, its policies and mission is available at www.aaea.org/publications/aepp.

The editor will work with an editorial team comprised of two other Submitted Articles Editors, and a Managing Editor to manage the manuscript review process. The Submitted Articles Editors are responsible for day-to-day issues relating to submitted articles, assisting with development of the Special Issues, and revising editorial policy. The AEPP editorial process employs electronic submission of manuscripts and interchange between editors and reviewers. An electronic system that tracks manuscripts through submission, review, and editorial decision is used by the editors for managing work flow. Authors can also query this system for e-mail reports on the status in the editorial process of a submitted manuscript. The editors also oversee the work of Wiley in preparing copy for printing and reviewing proofs.

The new editor should be prepared to begin on June 1, 2024. There may be some training and coordination work starting prior to June 1st. Applications should include a statement of editorial philosophy and ideas for furthering the journal's goals, an indication of the candidate's principal areas of expertise to support the AEPP's mission, a curriculum vitae, and a statement of administrative and financial support to be provided by the host institution. AAEA will provide financial assistance to defray some portion of the editor's time and most expenses. Applications should be sent electronically via PDF to Kristen McGuire, Executive Director, at kmcguire@aaea.org by March 15, 2024. Decisions will be made by the AAEA Board by April 2024. Third-party nominations of potentially interested candidates who can then be solicited for their materials are also welcome.

Nominations Call: HES Best Publication of 2023 Award

Nominations are now open for our Health Economics Section Best Publication of 2023 Award.

We invite you to nominate a paper for this award. Self-nominations and nominations of others' papers will be accepted.

Please submit the nomination to Bhagyashree Katare, bkatare@purdue.edu, by March 31, 2024.

Eligibility for the Health Economics Section Best Publication Award

Any article related to health policy published in an academic peer-reviewed journal in the 2023 calendar year. Submissions may include papers related to animal, human, and/or environmental health. Theoretical or empirical research papers will be accepted. The submission of high-impact research that demonstrates innovative and original contributions is highly encouraged.

Preference will be given to research led by an emerging scholar.

Submission deadline: March 31, 2024

Submission process: Email your nomination with a PDF of the publication attached to Bhagyashree Katare, bkatare@purdue.edu.

Call for submissions: AAEA invited paper sessions at the 2025 ASSA Annual Meeting

President-Elect Tim Beatty is soliciting proposals and suggestions for AAEA invited paper sessions at the 2025 Allied Social Sciences Association (ASSA) Annual Meeting in San Francisco, CA, January 3-5, 2025.

The objective of AAEA sessions at the ASSA Annual Meeting is to share new knowledge of interest to economists. The AAEA encourages sessions that will draw widely from ASSA attendees, including sessions jointly sponsored with other ASSA member associations.

A subcommittee of the AAEA Board will review all proposals. Preference will be given to proposals that

- 1) Cover issues of national and international importance,
- 2) Expand capabilities and tools for economic research,
- 3) Promise a high-quality collection of papers suitable for publication.

Papers in approved Invited Paper sessions are eligible to be peer reviewed for publication in the proceedings issue of the Applied Economic Perspectives and Policies. Authors will be contacted by the AEPP editors with manuscript submission details.

Proposed formats for the 2-hour sessions may include either three papers with one discussant or else four papers with no discussant. All proposals must include a plan for fostering participant interaction.

Proposals should include the session title and paper titles, as well as the names, addresses, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses of the session organizer, moderator, paper presenters, and discussants. Proposal text should begin with a short justification of the session, followed by one paragraph abstracts describing the objective and contributions of each paper. The organizer is responsible for ensuring that all individuals identified in the proposal are willing to participate.

All speakers and discussants must be members of AAEA, although the proposal may request a membership waiver under special circumstances. Participants must register for the ASSA meeting.

Please send proposals by May 22, 2024, in Word or PDF format to Mary Annen at mannen@aea.org.

International Workshop on Survey Design and Experimental Methods in Applied and Agricultural Economics

Michigan State University- May 20 to May 24, 2024 - Exciting updates

Announcing the early-bird registration for the International Workshop on “Survey Design and Experimental Methods in Applied and Agricultural Economics” has been extended until March 15, 2024. Seats are limited, and registration is based on a first come, first served basis.

We are also excited to share some relevant updates, which will benefit substantially all participants. Here are some highlights:

1. Thanks to a generous conference grant from the USDA-NIFA-AFRI (markets and trade), we will provide every participant with 5 nights of lodging at a hotel near the workshop location. More specific information about the hotel will be made available soon in our workshop webpage, under “travel and accommodation” (please see the link), so stay tuned!
2. In addition, there are several scholarships available to cover travel/lodging expenses and participation fees, all with a submission deadline of February 1, 2024. The scholarships are offered by:
 - The AAEA Trust, which is providing $10,000 for scholarships. Up to 20 students will receive scholarships in the amount of $500 each.
 - The AAEA Experimental Economics Section (EXECON), which is providing $1,000 for one scholarship to cover travel/lodging expenses.
 - The AAEA Institutional and Behavioral Economics Section (IBES), which is providing $500 for one scholarship to cover travel/lodging expenses.
 - The International Workshop on Survey Design & Experimental Methods in Applied and Agricultural Economics, which is providing two scholarships of $1,950 each to cover the participation fee for one student from non-R1 universities, including those from 1980 schools, and one student from an international institution.

Please note that the IBES, EXECON, and TRUST scholarships will be transferred directly to the awarded participants after the completion of the workshop by the respective donors. We will send you detailed instructions once the scholarships have been assigned. For the International Workshop Scholarship, we will provide a registration code to the awarded participants after assigning each scholarship. This code will be used to waive the registration fee when registering for the workshop. For more information regarding the scholarships, please click here.

As a general reminder, the Workshop takes place from May 20 to May 24, 2024, at the Department of Agricultural, Food, and Resources Economics at Michigan State University. It covers theoretical and practical knowledge regarding surveys and experimental methods. In addition, delegates will be familiarized with state-of-the-art software, and will design their own practice experiment through hands-on training.

The Workshop is open to academics (students, professors, individuals employed by colleges and universities, and other institutions of higher education) and non-academics (consultants and other practitioners from the private sector or national and international organizations). Instructors include Vincenzina Caputo (Michigan State University), Carola Grebitus (Arizona State University), David Just (Cornell University), Jayson L. Lusk (Oklahoma State University), Rudy Nayga (Texas A&M University), and Matthew Rousu (Susquehanna University).

We look forward to welcoming you to MSU. We would also appreciate it if you could share this information with your colleagues, students, and/or others who may be interested.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions!

Best Regards,

Vincenzina Caputo (vcaputo@msu.edu), Director

Carola Grebitus (carola.grebitus@asu.edu), Co-Director

Special Issue: Artificial Intelligence and Data Analytics Use in the Classroom and Academy

Applied Economics and Teaching Resources is calling for manuscripts about use of artificial intelligence (AI) and data analytics in undergraduate and graduate education in the classroom and across the academy.

Submissions of case studies, teaching and extension scholarship and research, educational innovations and methods, extension education innovations and methods, and commentaries about use of artificial intelligence, including use of large language models (LLMs) and platforms, such as ChatGPT, Bing AI, Bard, amongst other, and data analytics in undergraduate and graduate education, extension education, and other learning venues in institutions of higher learning. This special issue is open to a wide array of topics related to artificial intelligence and data analytics across the agricultural and applied economics and agribusiness and management economics disciplines. Topics may include but are not limited to innovative use of AI and data analytics in the classroom; innovative data analytic teaching modules and teaching case studies; teaching case studies about the impact of AI on agriculture, the agricultural industry and society; ethical and academic concerning the use of AI in the academy; assessments of AI for different learning outcomes and tasks; and use of AI and data analytics in extension education programming.

Special Issue Timeline:

If you are interested in making a submission to the special issue, please submit a 300 word abstract to Dr. Jason Bergtold (bergtold@ksu.edu) by June 30, 2024, at the latest. The abstract should describe the overall theme/topic of the manuscript, how it relates to the special issue call, and how it can be used for educational purposes. Your abstract will be reviewed once submitted and you will then be informed if you will be invited to submit a submission to the special issue.

Full papers for accepted abstracts must be submitted through AETR at www.aetrjournal.org. All papers will go through a double-blind peer review process and be available online via Advanced Access for readers once accepted. All submissions will need to follow the AETR submission guidelines at: <https://www.aetrjournal.org/contribute/submission-guidelines>. If you have questions about the special issue, please email the special issue editors.

Government Relations & Washington Update

March 2024

Congress Releases FY 2024 Consolidated Appropriations Package

Congress continues its work to complete appropriations for funding the federal government through the end of fiscal year 2024. Congress passed another short-term continuing resolution on February 29th extending the deadline for four appropriations bills (including agriculture) to March 8th. The remaining bills were extended to March 22nd. In a sign of progress, on March 3rd the House and Senate Appropriations Committees released six of the final appropriations bills for fiscal year 2024. The package includes bills covering:

- Military Construction, Veterans Affairs, and Related Agencies
- Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies
- Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies
- Energy and Water Development and Related Agencies
- Interior, Environment, and Related Agencies Appropriations
- Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies

If approved, the final funding levels for agricultural research include decreases for both the Economic Research Service (ERS) and the National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS). The Agricultural Research Service (ARS) salaries and expenses would be increased by $44 million, while buildings and facilities would see a sharp drop from last year. Most accounts in the National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA) budget would be funded at the same level as last year, including the capacity funds. The Agriculture and Food Research Initiative (AFRI) would be decreased by $10 million.

Below is a summary of selected USDA accounts comparing the “final” FY24 Consolidated funding levels with House and Senate versions and FY 2023 levels.

ACCOUNT	FY23 FINAL	FY24 House	FY24 Senate	FY 24 Consolidated
OCE	$28.2 million	$29.2 million	$30.2 million	$30.5 million
ERS	$92.6 million	$90.6 million	$92.2 million	$90.6 million
NASS	$211 million	$187.5 million	$200.5 million	$187.5 million
ARS Salaries	$1.744 billion	$1.745 billion	$1.793 billion	$1.788 billion
ARS Buildings	$132.3 million	$16.7 million	$88.8 million	$57.1 million
Hatch	$265 million	$265 million	$265 million	$265 million
AFRI	$455 million	$460 million	$455 million	$445.2 million
Smith Lever	$325 million	$325 million	$325 million	$325 million

Secretary of Agriculture Testifies before House and Senate Agriculture Committees

In February, Secretary of Agriculture Tom Vilsack appeared before both the House and Senate Agriculture Committee. The hearings covered a wide range of issues impacting food and agriculture policy and highlighted potential challenges in completing the next farm bill. The recent ERS release of the February 2024 Farm Income Forecast was a topic raised by Secretary Vilsack and multiple committee members. The report forecasts that net farm income will be $116.1 billion in calendar year 2024, a decrease of $39.8 billion (25.5 percent) relative to 2023 in nominal dollars. After adjusting for inflation, net farm income is forecast to decrease $43.1 billion (27.1 percent) in 2024 relative to 2023. The forecast decline is raising concerns and Republicans are pressing for increased investments in the farm safety net by reprogramming Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) funds dedicated to conservation or slowing the growth of nutrition programs. Democrats have indicated strong opposition to redirecting any funds from the IRA or changing nutrition programs. Despite their differences, leaders from both parties continue to express their desire to move a bipartisan farm bill this year.
