2020 AAEA Mentoring Research WorkshopRescheduled dates: October 7-9, 2020

All previously submitted applications will be held for the future date. We will also accept additional applications.

Chicago, IL
Registration fee: $40

The objective of this workshop is mentor junior faculty (less than 5 years) to transition to agricultural and applied economic departments by providing an orientation to expectations for research, teaching and outreach and develop effective strategies for success. The workshop will focus on constructively criticizing research in progress. Mentoring will include networking, information about the profession, and discussion of current research trends and topic areas.

Mentees will be divided into small groups assigned to one or more mentors. Small group sessions will involve short research presentation by each mentee followed by feedback on their research by the group.

To apply for this workshop, submit a 250 word description of motivations for participating and desires for learning outcomes via email to mannen@aaea.org. If you have any questions, contact Mary Annen.

2020 AAEA Annual MeetingOn-site Childcare

AAEA will have childcare onsite at the 2020 Annual Meeting in Kansas City, MO. Childcare will be available Sunday, July 26 – Tuesday, July 28, 8:00 am – 8:00 pm each day for children 6 months to 12 years. You must pre-register for childcare. For additional information or to register for childcare visit www.accentregister.com/register/aaea20 or download the PDF form.

REGISTRATION: To assure that your child has a place, please pre-register by July 20, 2020.

The onsite childcare services will be provided by Accent on Children's Arrangements, Inc. (ACCENT), which will design and run a children's program called CAMP AAEA.

CAMP AAEA will offer age-appropriate activities for children ranging from 6 months to 12 years of age (separated into age-appropriate groups) including curriculum-enriched, hands-on, creative activities, arts & crafts projects, active games, and more.

ACCENT will staff CAMP AAEA with teacher professional childcare providers who have completed ACCENT's specialized training program. In addition, ACCENT's onsite supervisors are CPR and Pediatric First Aid certified.

CAMP AAEA will run for all three Annual Meeting days as follows:

Sunday, July 26	8:00 am – 8:00 pm
Monday, July 27	8:00 am – 8:00 pm
Tuesday, July 28	8:00 am – 8:00 pm

AAEA will cover the overall management fee to hire ACCENT to establish the onsite childcare facility. The parent is responsible for ACCENT's standard rates, which are listed below:

	Children 3 years and older	Children 36 months and younger
8:00 am – 2:00 pm	$55	$65
2:00 pm – 8:00 pm	$55	$65
Full day (8:00 am – 8:00 pm)	$100	$115
Additional hours*	$10 per hour	$12 per hour
*A minimum of 4 consecutive hours

Advance registration for ACCENT's services is available via the clickable link at the top or bottom of this page. Interested parents will also be able to sign up their children via on-site registration, which will remain open throughout the Annual Meeting and will be located directly at the Kansas City Marriott Downtown at the onsite childcare facility. AAEA strongly recommends Advance Registration, to ensure that you have access to this service for the time slots you desire.

AAEA is pleased to make the investment in onsite childcare in response to the needs and requests of our members and profession. We look forward to making it possible for more families to participate in the AAEA Annual Meetings.

2020 AAEA Annual Meeting

Announcing the 2020 Extension Competition for Graduate Students

The AAEA Extension Competition for Graduate Students provides incentives and opportunity to develop extension and outreach programs from their research for an extension (usually non-economist) audience. Entries can be based upon the graduate student's research for a thesis, dissertation, or other academic work. The competition is sponsored jointly by the Extension and Graduate Student Sections.

Who is Eligible?

- Graduate students currently engaged in topics related to agricultural economics, agribusiness, natural resources, and community resource economics.
- Those who graduated from such programs in 2019 or later.
- Participants must identify and work with a mentor with experience in outreach or extension activities.

Competition Application Information

Applications should be addressed to Kate Fuller at kate.fuller@montana.edu and must include:

1. Student's name, university, department, address, and contact information.
2. Title of the extension program to be delivered.
3. A summary of the proposed/conducted extension program. This should include target audience, delivery plans, communication methods and activities planned for distributing the information to the public such as fact sheets, press releases, reports, web sites, spreadsheets, presentations, and training activities (4 page maximum). If the applicant was part of a team, the role of the applicant within the team must be made clear.

4. A profile of the applicant's background and research (1 page maximum).
5. The mentor's name, address, and description of the mentor's role in assisting the student with this project.

Submission Deadline

Applications must be submitted electronically no later than midnight MST on May 15, 2020.

Finalists at AAEA

Finalists will be selected to make a 15-minute extension/outreach presentation at the AAEA meeting in Kansas City, MO on Sunday July 26, 2020, to a panel of judges, who will then ask 5 minutes of questions. The competition will begin at 8 am. Selection of the finalists will be based on the material submitted and the criteria listed below. Finalists will be notified by June 1, 2020. The top three finalists are expected to make presentations during an AAEA Extension track organized symposium.

Criteria for Selecting Finalists

Criteria for judging finalists and winners will include:

1. Identification of a target audience.
 - a. An explanation of the issue/problem/opportunity being addressed.
 - b. An explanation on how this target audience was identified.
2. Development of an extension program for the target audience that includes:
 - a. An outline of the goals of the extension program, and a description of how the results will address the issue/problem/opportunity and benefit the target audience.
 - b. A summary and explanation of the main elements of the research results to be included in the extension program.
 - c. A summary or explanation of the program in an extension report, or extension presentation, or other appropriate extension communication media.
3. An explanation of extension team development and responsibilities in terms of program development and delivery should be addressed, if appropriate.
4. Plans for evaluating the effectiveness of the extension program.

Awards

Cash awards will be given to those judged to be the top three graduate students in this competition. Award funding is provided by the AAEA Extension Section through membership dues and via support provided by sponsors. Awards are:

- First Place: $1,000 and a plaque
- Second Place: $300 and a certificate
- Third Place: $200 and a certificate

Other finalists receive finalist certificates.

The top three competitors selected will be recognized at the AAEA Awards ceremony. All finalists will be provided tickets to the Extension Luncheon during the AAEA annual meeting.

AAEA GSS | 2020 Policy Communications Competition

Overview

In today's market, there are numerous job opportunities for graduate students to enter positions in which they must effectively evaluate policy and communicate with policymakers and non-specialists about how certain issues influence stakeholders in food and agriculture. Communication must be brief, yet powerful, with proper objectivity and inclusion of timely and accurate information. Through this competition, graduate students will have the opportunity to gain experience in both written and verbal policy communication.

Objectives for Participants

- Evaluate a given relevant agricultural policy issue.
- Carefully construct rhetoric, both written and oral, to provide objective information needed by decision makers.

Participant Eligibility

Eligible applicants are:

- Graduate students with a graduation date of 2019 or later engaged in agricultural economics, agribusiness, natural resources, community resource economics, or a related field.

Competition Information

The first round of the competition will require participants to submit a typed policy briefing, not to exceed two pages (double spaced, 12-point font, including references, figures, and graphics). This document should summarize the background and current status of the issue, key facts (i.e. benefits and costs to different groups), findings, and conclusions. The job of the participant is not to convince the policymaker to take a certain position or vote a certain way, but rather to evaluate, gather and present the necessary information for the policymaker to make an informed decision regarding the issue.

The second round of the competition will require participants to provide a verbal presentation that accompanies the policy briefing, not to exceed 10 minutes in length. Within the presentation, the participant should go into more detail about the specificity of the policy issue as well as include more key facts and findings from outside research surrounding the policy issue. Overall, the presentation and written brief should complement each other and form a well-rounded effort in policy communication.

Timeline

- April 2020: Open registration for competition. Selected policy issue prompt sent to participants.
- Friday, May 15, 2020: Registration and policy briefing due.
- Sunday, July 26, 2020: Presentations at 2020 AAEA Annual Meeting in Kansas City.

Competition Application Information

Applications should be addressed to Logan Britton at logan.britton@okstate.edu and must include:

1. Student's name, university, department, address, and contact information.
2. Policy briefing (2-page maximum).

Submission Deadline

Applications must be submitted electronically no later than midnight CST on May 15, 2020.

Finalists at AAEA

Finalists will be selected to make a 10-minute presentation at the AAEA meeting in Kansas City, Missouri, on Sunday, July 26, 2020, to a panel of judges. The competition will begin at 8 a.m. Selection of the finalists will be based on the material submitted and criteria listed below. Finalists will be notified by June 1, 2020.

Criteria for Selecting Finalists and Winners

Criteria for judging finalists and winners will include:

1. Defines the problem, discusses feasibility of the policy ideas and steps, addresses a proper audience, background and supporting research, and addresses government failures or unintended consequences.
2. Integration of knowledge, persuasiveness of argument, and variety of sources.
3. Formal language, appropriate tone, grammar and mechanics, and logical organization of thoughts and ideas.
4. Proper format of policy briefing (proper headings, length no more than two pages, proper citation, ordered appearance).

Awards

The top three competitors selected will be recognized at the AAEA Awards Ceremony and the winner will receive a plaque at the awards ceremony.

PromptGeneral Information:

Labor shortages have influenced the U.S. agriculture sector for several decades. Over the past 15 years, the number of U.S. farmworkers has declined by approximately 12 percent. The U.S. agriculture sector and other industries within the economy have relied on undocumented workers to fill the labor gap¹. Due to farm labor scarcity and high wage rates, unauthorized migration from Mexico has been incentivized. Labor shortages still exist in the farm sector today because of stricter immigration policies and penalties. The H-2A program were created to meet the farm labor scarcity in the United States due to insufficient able and willing supply of local and domestic labor. Through these programs, U.S. farmers can secure laborers and foreign workers can legally be employed in the United States. Some farmers plant multiple crops each year to increase revenue and mitigate risk, which may extend beyond the 10-month window allowed through the H-2A program. This creates additional transaction costs for operations producing multiple crops than traditional operations. Alternative programs to the H-2A have been developed for farm employees but have not successful in the long-run.

Policy Changes:

Suppose the U.S. Congress is introducing legislation to address the issue of labor shortage in the agriculture sector. The legislation includes programs that will modify the H-2A program. The H-AG program allows the same basic package; yet, employers must guarantee workers employment hours equal to at least 95 percent of the workdays in the contract period. This bill redefines agricultural workers to include those involved in livestock and dairy production. This program would allow guest workers employment with a specific employer for 15 months or less. After the H-AG visa expires three years from its issue date, the guest worker must leave the United States for at least 90 days.

What to Address:

With no more than two pages (single-spaced and 1 inch margins with a Serif font), evaluate the costs and benefits of the legislation being proposed by Congress. Does it correct a market failure? You should also address any potential government failures or unintended consequences. Policymakers are your audience when developing your paper. If selected to the second round of the competition, you will be asked to present this information to a panel of judges.

Call for Submissions: AAEA Invited Paper Sessions

2021 ASSA Annual Meeting

President-Elect Dawn Thilmany McFadden is soliciting proposals and suggestions for AAEA Invited Paper sessions at the 2021 Allied Social Sciences Association (ASSA) Annual Meeting in Chicago, IL, January 3-5, 2021.

The objective of AAEA sessions at the ASSA Annual Meeting is to share new knowledge of interest to economists. AAEA encourages sessions that will draw widely from ASSA attendees, including sessions jointly sponsored with other ASSA member associations.

A subcommittee of the AAEA Board will review all proposals. Preference will be given to proposals that

1. Cover issues of national and international importance,
2. Expand capabilities and tools for economic research, and
3. Promise a high-quality collection of papers suitable for publication.

Papers in approved Invited Paper sessions are eligible to be peer reviewed for publication in the proceeding issue of the Applied Economic Perspectives and Policies. Authors will be contacted by the AEPP editors with manuscript submission details.

Proposed formats for the 2-hour sessions may include either three papers with one discussant or else four papers with no discussant. All proposals must include a plan for fostering participant interaction. Proposals should include the session title and paper titles, as well as the names, addresses, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses of the session organizer, moderator, paper presenters, and discussants. Proposal text should begin with a short justification of the session, followed by one paragraph abstracts describing the objective and contributions of each paper. The organizer is responsible for ensuring that all individuals identified in the proposal are willing to participate.

All speakers and discussants must be members of AAEA, although the proposal may request a membership waiver under special circumstances. Participants must register for the ASSA meeting.

Please send proposals by May 28, 2020, in Word or PDF format to Mary Annen at mannen@aea.org.

Call for Papers on Beginning Farmers and Ranchers

The Economic Research Service, USDA, and Farm Foundation are sponsoring a 2-day workshop on young and beginning farmers, in order to provide a forum to discuss Beginning farmer and rancher opportunities. The workshop, to be held in September 2020 in Washington D.C., will bring together academics and other researchers and USDA agencies, with the objective of informing practitioners, policy makers, and USDA program agencies in their interactions with young and beginning farmers.

Organizers are calling for papers highlighting empirical data and models that bring cutting edge thinking on one or more themes related to beginning farmers and ranchers (BFR), including:

- BFR Financial and risk management strategies
- Credit availability and access to capital
- Overcoming land access and other barriers to entry
- Farm succession strategies for older operators
- New markets and marketing strategies for BFRs
- State extension programming for BFRs
- NGO and community outreach efforts for BFRs
- Lender initiatives for BFRs
- Demographics of young and beginning farmers, including entry by women, under-represented, and socially disadvantaged groups and veterans

These above themes are suggestive only. In addition to research, we are also looking for case studies of the above.

A recent report from ERS describes some of the geographic, commodity specialization, and financial characteristics of beginning farms and farmers. In addition to ARMS data, data from the 2017 and earlier Agricultural Censuses are easily accessed and provide an extensive repository of data for analysis.

Full papers are not to exceed 15–20 pages and 4000 words maximum. Authors of selected papers will receive an honorarium from the Farm Foundation to cover their participation expenses, and all papers will be given the option of consideration for publication in a special issue of Agricultural Finance Review.

The deadline to submit a one-page abstract is May 15, 2020 and authors of selected abstracts will be notified by June 30, 2020. Abstracts should be sent to bfr@farmfoundation.org For more information, contact Tim Brennan at tim@farmfoundation.org (630) 571-9393.

Fall 2020 Issue of the Western Economic ForumSubmission Guidelines

Guidelines for Submitting Manuscripts: All submissions to the Western Economics Forum must be submitted electronically in MS Word format. Author and institutional identifications will be removed from MS Word submissions by the editorial team prior to being sent to reviewers. Receipt of manuscripts will be acknowledged by email.

Authors' Identification and Title Page: To protect their anonymity in the review process, authors should not identify themselves on the title page or in any headers. A separate title page must be sent as an attachment to the editors via email, and should include: (i) title; (ii) author names; and (iii) name, phone number, and email address of the corresponding author.

Text Preparation and Style Guide: Regular Articles: Final published length of regular articles for the WEF is targeted for 8–12 pages in final form or 2,500 words in length, with a maximum length of 15–20 pages in final form or 3,500 words in length – including reference list, tables and figures. There may be flexibility to accept more pages if appropriate – at the discretion of the editors. Double-space all text, including the abstract, acknowledgments, footnotes, and references. Place each table and figure on a separate page following the references. Make sure that the manuscript follows the style and formatting requirements outlined in the JARE Style Guide. (<http://www.waeaonline.org/publications/jare/submission-guidelines>).

Case Studies: For the Fall 2020 issue of the Western Economics Forum there will also be a case studies section – with the case studies targeted for 3–5 pages in length in final form, and approximately 6–9 pages in length as initially submitted or 1,000–1,250 words in double-space text, including abstract, acknowledgements, footnotes, and references. The JARE Style Guide style and formatting requirements will also be followed for Case Study articles. See the Call for Papers and Case Studies for Fall 2020 for more information.

Article Submissions

All documents must be submitted in MS Word format and will undergo double-blind peer-review before being considered for publication. Submit articles for the Fall 2020 WEF Journal to Editorial Team member Daniel M. O'Brien by email attachment at: dobrien@ksu.edu.

Author Rights

Authors who publish in the WEF retain copyright and publishing rights without restrictions and grant the journal right of first publication. Authors grant the Western Agricultural Economics Association and the Western Economics Forum a license to publish and distribute the work under a Creative Commons Attribution–NonCommercial 4.0 International License, which allows others to share the work for noncommercial purposes, provided that (i) they acknowledge the work's authorship and initial publication in JARE and (ii) this is not done for commercial purposes. (More information can be found here).

Authors may enter into separate, additional contractual arrangements for the non-exclusive distribution of JARE's published version of the work. This includes but is not limited to reproducing the contribution separately, in a university or institutional repository, or in any derivative work of which they are the author(s) or editor(s), subject only to giving proper credit in the work to the original publication of the contribution by the WEF.

Instructions for Accepted Manuscripts

The final versions of accepted papers should follow standard WEF submission guidelines, paying particular attention to the JARE Style Guide. Authors should also upload the native file in MS Word format. The final manuscript file should include a title page with the title, running head, authors' names and affiliations, abstract, keywords, JEL codes, acknowledgements, conflicts of interest, and short description (250 characters maximum).

Anti-Harassment and Code of Conduct Policy

AAEA is committed to the fair, ethical treatment of all of its members and all other individuals participating in AAEA activities or activities connected with, or related to, AAEA activities, while providing an atmosphere that promotes a variety of research, teaching and extension/outreach activities.

AAEA has zero tolerance for, and prohibits any type of, discrimination or harassment, including sexual harassment, either within the organization, at professional meetings, in the field, or anywhere professional activities are conducted under the aegis of the AAEA.
