Web Site Award

The Extension Section of the American Agricultural Economics Association has in the past recognized an outstanding institutional Website, electronic newsletters, and outstanding individual or team Website. This year the Extension Section focused this years Website award on Websites providing outstanding electronic tools and decision aids. Trent Teegerstrom chaired the committee. This years winner was The University of Illinois for its FAST (Farm Analysis Solution Tools) website.

Graduate Student Extension/Outreach Education Competition

At the 2004 Annual Business meeting, Larry Sanders (Oklahoma State U) proposed a competition for graduate students that would work their thesis research into an Extension/Outreach program. The guidelines for the award were submitted to the AAEA Board and approved in January 2006. The award will be co-sponsored by the Extension Section and the Graduate Student Section. A brochure and entry form were developed and circulated. The total number of entries was 13. Top presenters will be recognized at the Extension luncheon, with cash prizes funded by the Farm Foundation to be awarded. Evaluators were Larry Sanders, J.H. Bahn, Jim Novak, Frayne Olson, Don Ricks, Margot Rudstrom, Steve Halbrook, Stan Ernst, and Andy Seidle.
